David Douglas

David Douglas passed away on Sunday 31st July after a very brief battle with aggressive pancreatic cancer . A Countryman he loved his shooting, hunting, sea fishing and conservation. Farming early on in Wittersham, 500 head of Romneys then finally securing a farm on some true Weald clay at South Brockwells near Uckfield where his sheep numbers increased to its height at 1500 head Suffolk mules, then a small beef suckler herd, many years of free range eggs and latterly his Asparagus. Keeping up with the moving times of farming some of the more challenging ground in the county.

He truly loved his life, he was famous for his magpie trapping in the spring always over 100 less in the Plashett area, so his wild game and songbirds could thrive. With his Spaniel at his side he left behind his daughters who continue with the farming business.

His funeral to be held at St Michael and All Angels, Little Horsted on Friday 26th August at 2pm .
